

ABSTRACT

A crush resistant seamless roofing system is formed by a 5 layer of adjacent panels having loose joints filled by expanding rising foam adhesive, which is trimmed to remove excess foam adhesive above a top plane of the roofing system. The roofing system thus formed is covered by a fabric layer and a coating.

10

Full application 11-15-01